PRACTICE MISSION

To provide legal advice and assistance for the people of the towns and countryside of North Yorkshire

It is with great pride that North Yorkshire Law announces its recent LEXCEL Accreditation and retention of the Investors in People accreditation

LEXCEL ACCREDITATION - What actually is it?

LEXCEL is the quality mark developed by the Law Society of England & Wales for practices and legal departments which have been independently assessed as having achieved the Practice Management Standards

A formal review has taken place at North Yorkshire Law in the following areas:

- Client Care
- Recruitment and Selection
- Financial Practice
- Marketing
- Induction Process
- Performance Reviews
- Business Plan
- Business Continuity Planning (Disaster Recovery)
- Risk Practices

SO, WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

With 10,000 Law firms nationally and many locally, someone looking for legal advice may be concerned about which to pick. The client will assume the lawyer knows the Law. But is the firm well run? How safe is their case in our hands? The LEXCEL accreditation confirms the Firm is well organised and managed according to practice management standards, providing clients and all organisations with whom we deal, some comfort and certainty. The LEXCEL standard works well with the Investors in People award, ensuring our team is working effectively, for the benefit of our clients.

The Partners are grateful to all their staff who, with great effort and fortitude, achieved the Lexcel accreditation and Investors in People award, in such difficult times for us all.
